1.PRIVACY POLICY (Version 10.02.2021)

1.1.GENERAL

Waer Waters is committed to protecting your privacy. We therefore strive to process your personal data in a legal, fair and transparent manner.

When you visit our website or use one of our services, we collect various personal data. These personal data are required for us to serve you. This privacy policy explains which data we collect, the purposes for this and the basis for doing so, how we obtain the data, how you can modify it, and your rights in this regard.

Personal data processing is subject to European Regulation 2016/676 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to processing personal data and on the free movement of such data, as well as the law of 30 July 2018 on the protection of individuals with regard to processing personal data.

This privacy policy applies to all services provided by Waer Waters and generally to all the activities we perform.

1.2.DATA WE COLLECT

Depending on which service you use, Waer Waters may process the following personal data from you:

- Name;
- Address details;
- Email address;
- Camera images;
- Credit card details (this is only done during a hotel booking);
- Date of birth (this remains voluntary);
- Telephone number (this remains voluntary).

We process your personal data for various purposes. During each handling, we only process the personal data that is necessary to achieve the intended purpose.

1.3.THE WAY WE COLLECT DATA

Directly from you:

In view of the nature of the service, Waer Waters can only offer you services if certain personal data is shared with us. The personal data we collect always comes exclusively from you.

When you visit Waer Waters, we may ask for your ID card. Using automatic ID card scanning, we can collect only personal data for which no PIN or other authentication is required, i.e., your name and address details.

If you do not wish to have your identity card scanned during your visit, this is no problem for us. One of our employees can enter your personal data manually. However, our employee will verify the information that you provide (your identity) with that on the identity card.

When you send an email to us, we may keep those messages and ask for some of your personal data, which is necessary for the situation. This allows us to process your questions and respond to your requests.

During your visit to Waer Waters, some of your personal data will be linked to an RFID wristband. Upon arrival, you will receive an RFID wristband that allows you to choose and operate a locker, order food and drink in the facilities of Waer Waters, and to get access to the wellness or fitness area according to your wishes. The gates and turnstiles are equipped with an RFID reader. They check the wristband for validity before opening, and show us if you are in our wellness facilities, a restaurant or the fitness room.

Everything you use during your visit to Waer Waters is scanned onto your RFID wristband during your visit. When you leave Waer Waters, your RFID band will be scanned and your bill made up.

After your visit to Waer Waters, the RFID wristband is disconnected from your personal data so that it can be linked to a new visitor.

We may also collect information regarding your use of our website. We use cookies for this purpose. Since cookies are also personal data, this privacy policy should be read in conjunction with our cookie policy.

Via camera surveillance:

Camera surveillance is used at Waer Waters. Waer Waters does this to ensure the safety of its visitors.

Our camera surveillance is clearly indicated by visible stickers in and on the facilities.

In the event of an incident, the camera images may be made available to police and judicial authorities, within the legal framework, in order to support reporting of a criminal offence. The camera images will not be shared with third parties unless there is a legal or other type of obligation to do so.
